Homestay families can provide excellent opportunities for international students to immerse themselves in Canadian culture and lifestyles, and the English or French language.
Homestay

International students can expect …

• a private room in a welcoming home environment
• three daily meals
• a positive atmosphere in which to study and live
• a family that has passed a criminal record and child abuse registry check
• a family and home selected by the Homestay Coordinator
• numerous opportunities to learn about Canadian culture and use their English or French language skills
Homestay families are just that—family. They are encouraged to treat international students as members of their own family. International students will participate in family activities and are expected to contribute the operation of the family household.

The Louis Riel School Division is committed to ensuring that international students studying in the Division have access to homestay accommodation of the very highest standard.
